of the ARAB PATROL CLUB

Huntington Avenue

Old American League Base Ball Grounds.
(Opp. Boston Opera House.)

September 10, 11, 12, 13
1933
SATURDAY MATINEE

Right now—before you lay aside this notice—just indicate the number of tickets necessary for you and your family or friends—on the blank below and mail in enclosed envelope—with your check.

Take our word for it, if you let this opportunity pass by without quick action on your part you will be the sorriest Shriner that ever wore a fez, because this show will be a "two-ring Whizzer."

It has got to be—for over 1,000 men and women of all nations are working night and day in preparation to disport themselves for your enjoyment.

Grand Amateur Entree and Parade

which appears in the Hippodrome Course will contain all the attractions and wonders of the arena. Gallant knights on prancing steeds—daring Gladiators, Fiery Untamed Savages—a conglomeration of curiosities—a galaxy of bravery and beauty—a marvelous demonstration that will put the splendors of Ancient Rome in a state of innocuous desuetude.

The Shrine Band

will be there, but it's a hundred to one shot that you won't recognize it.

Difficult, Daring, Dangerous Divertissements

on the Balancing Trapeze will border on the supernatural.

Imagine a man playing with a Twenty Hundred Weight like you would a base ball. Sig. Ironrocks is without doubt the strongest man in captivity. He will even lift the sawdust of the ring. (N. B. It might be well to keep your hands on your pocketbook during this act.)

A Carnival of fun by the Clowns

An ever-changing Medley of iridescent situations, laughable antics and ludicrous manoeuvres.

Old Bill Wa'tell will be compelled to shoot a fly off the left ear of the Potentate. He says he has done similar acts when "half-shot" himself.

"Little Nemo" Buswell

in his latest equilibristic feats, artistic, alluring, awe-inspiring—showing phenomenal strength and agility in daring.

Good Old "Gus" Hall

astonishing evolutions, summersaults and swinging trapeze exhibitions of daring upon the aerial bars, accompanied by an unknown. Handsome prize given to the one guessing the correct name.

The DeVries Sisters

queens of the arena fly through the air with the greatest of ease.

Harry, the trick pony

Gyp, the riding dog, in an exhibition of equine intelligence and canine equestrianism.

A Pot-pourri of clown curiosities. Cy Ching, Captain. No restrictions as long as they are funny.

In addition many prominent men of Boston will appear as ring masters and many of Boston's famous business men will act as clowns.

And so we might go on but really, Noble, let us simply state that if at any time during the evening you do not feel that you have had more than your money's worth, it will be cheerfully refunded.

We came pretty near forgetting about the side shows. Come early so as to take them all in. You will find a great many of your friends on exhibition. You will wonder why they did not find their right niche in life before. There will be something doing every minute.

And then the Grand Concert which will take place immediately after the ring performance—will entirely surpass any circus Concert ever attempted. An amazing array of artists that have been secured at a great expense.

If you have friends who are not Shriners or Masons, do an act of kindness and see that they and their families—wives, mothers, sweethearts and sisters—are provided with tickets.

And the Children!

Don't forget the children. Bring them along too, for they will have the time of their lives. Or plan for them to enjoy the Saturday Matinee.

Stick your fez

in your pocket, if you want to. Put it on when you get inside the tent. Of course the same rule holds good for the ladies with the white fez.

SHOW WILL BE HELD RAIN OR SHINE.

CIRCUS COMMITTEE: F. H. Beckler, Chairman, Edmund P. Blake, Edward P. Brock, Harry E. Astley M. Sharaf, A. F. O. Cedarstrom.

Fill out this blank, tear it off, enclose in the envelope with your money and you have made an investment you will never regret.
